WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF ; The parallel between the state of things in Rassia and that which prevailed in France before the outbreak of the Revolution is Sat. becoming startlingly closs. We have the same wild manest among the people and the same want of purpose and clear insight among the relers. The autocracy is tossing feebly apon the waves, apparently unable to stope a direct occurse to any definite goal. In fact, the Russian ship of state is in a hopeless modelle, just as Louis XVL's Government was before the convocation of the States-General, and it may be drifting aimlessly towards a similar catastrophe.

may be drifting aimleasily towards a similar catastrophe. In some respects matters are even worse in Ressis than they were in pre-revolutionary Prance, because the Tare's Empire is still deeply involved in a tremendous foreign conflict, from which apparently it has not the resolution to actricate itself, though every hope of second to the categories of the control of the confliction of the

As it was in France also, the interested are on the side of the insurrection. All that there is of professional and mercantile ability is against the autoracy. The lawyers, dotter, professors, students, and financiers sympathies with the librar investment. The journalists accept those who are kept by the Government, are strongly on the same side. Last work the Union of Russian Journalists chartered a view steamer, and cruised about the Neva for six hours, in order to hold a meeting secure from police intervention. They voted in favor of the immediate convocation of a constituent the immediate convocation of a constituent assembly, decided to participate in the next great popular demonstration in St. Petersburg assembly, decided to participate in the next great popular demonstration in St. Peterburg, and finally passed a resolution welcoming the salvent of the Ressian Revolution. It is the sum's story everywhere. In Ressia all those-elements which are normally enlisted in deface of existing institutions, are eager to subvert them. And beyond these articulate sections of the population is the great mass of the pre-sants, as poor and oppressed at their proto-types in the France of the Ancient Reguns, and perhaps rather more capable of being organised for action, since we live in the ag-of the railways, the common school, and the powerpaper.

and perhaps rather more capable of being organised for action, since we live in the age of the railways, the common school, and the newspaper.

But the most curious parallel of all is furnished by the conduct of the Renais mobility. Suzz Canal.—13 vessels passed through the Ganal on the 12th and 13th inst., of which 9 were British, 1 Italian, 1 German, 1 French, 1 Dutch. The receipts for the two days were frs. 306,581.34, making the total from the 1st inst. frs. 3,503,545.97.

THE CAMILLERI CASE.—The British consular authorities at Alexandria have adjourned the further hearing of the Camilleri case until Thursday in order that the evidence of the Italian, who was wounded by the policeman, should be taken.

Horel Beau-Rivage.—The ball at the Hotel Beau-Rivage last night was a great success and as fashionable and select as usual. The band of the 2nd Battalion Royal Berkshires was an admirable orchestra. There were a number of dinner parties given before the dance.

THE CHURCH IN CYPRUS. - Archder Potter has issued an appeal on behalf of the Church in Cyprus. He points out that there are six stations to minister to and no funds available for work among the troops except a grant from the War Office and the voluntary contributions of the scattered residents and friends in England. The chief needs are for funds to permit of the erection of churches and to provide for an itinerant chaplain.

DIPLOMATIC DIGNITY. - A non-commissioned officer and a soldier belonging to the Egyptian Army and stationed at Abbassieb, having failed to show the respect due to the Hellenic Diplomatic Agent and Consul General when he was walking in that neighbourhood, have been severely punished. M. Gennadis at once complained to the Minister for Foreign Affairs and the soldier has been expelled from the army, while the non-commissioned officer has been degraded.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE.—The land separating the Alexandria Bourse from the Credit Lyon nais block, and leading from Cherif Pashastreet to Tewfik Pasha-street, has of late become a regular market, and on the busiest time of the day it is quite impassable. The lane is a very convenient and much frequented route and great complaints have been made owing to the slackness of the local authorities in permitting it to be used by hawkers. The Alexandria Municipality is alone to blame in this matter.

ROYAL WEDDING.

BRILLIANT SPECTACLE.

MAGNIFICENT WEATHER

FURTHER DETAILS.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT).

WINDSOR, June 15.

I am able to give you further details regarding the great event of the day in England. I had the honor of attending the Royal wedding at the special invitation of the Lord High Chamberlain. The happy function was favored by magnificent weather, which added to the splendour of the proceedings. The marriage ceremony, as I have already said, was performed at St. George's Chapel at half-past twelve o'clock by the Archbishop' of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishop of Oxford, the dean and canons of Windsor, and the Chaplai General of H.M.'s Forces. Princess Margaret of Connaught, who was given away by her father, the Duke of Connaught, was supported by four bridesmaids, her sister, Princess Patricia of Connaught, Princess Victoria of Bat-tenberg, Princess Mary of Wales, and Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg.

The Royal guests occupied the whole of the chancel of the chapel, and the spectacle afforded was brilliant in the extreme, the ladies being in evening dress and wearing dazzling gems, while the men were in military uniforms or levée dress. Among the principal guests, besides H. H. the Khedive and suite, were Mr. Vincent Corbett, Colonel Watson, Bontros Pasha Ghali, General Sir Godfrey Clark, etc.

The hymn sung previous to the arrival of the wedding procession was "When God of old,"
the concluding hymn being "Now thank we all our God," followed by Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The organist was Sir Walter Parratt, organist of the Chapel Royal.

The Royal dejeuner was given in the State dining-room of Windsor Castle. The wedding cake was five feet high and was borne on four

MORE FIRES IN CAIRO.

Cairo has been the scene of two further fires since the large outbreak in the Darbel-Ahmar district, but happily the results have not been so disastrons as on that occasion. It appears to be the season of fires in Cairo, and indeed in the provinces, for the frequency with which they have occurred during the last few weeks is quite alarming. Only a few days ago we had occasion to report a fire in the provinces which caused the destruction of over 300 houses and the loss of twelve lives, and also two other fires which were certainly not so serious, but at the same time assumed considerable proportions and from one of which a fatality occurred. A few days later came the news of the fire which we have already mentioned and which involved a loss of over £10,000 to the inhabitants of a poor and crowded district.

To add to this tale of woe and destruction we have to record that a fire broke out on Wednesday evening in the Haret Darb el Ziont, Clot Bey street, and was only subdued after an hour's hard fight by the members of the Fire Brigade, whose efforts prevented the flames from spreading to the neighbouring houses, and thus limited the destruction to but a small area. A few hours later the brigade received another alarm; they were informed that a fire was raging in Sharia Kasr el-Aini, and arrived at the scene of the conflagration to find the house of Mue Zenab Hanem in danger of being gutted Here, too, the Fire Brigade waged its war against the deadly flames with their accus tomed energy, and confined the damage done to one spot. It is estimated that the damage in the case of the first fire recorded amounts to £600 and in the latter case to £500. Cairo can indeed be congratulated on the smartness and efficiency of its Fire Brigade. In the 166 days which have passed during the present year the brigade has received the call of duty some 120 times, and on each occasion has done the work required of it in a manner worthy of the best trained London brigade. The work of the men speaks admirably for Captain Blake, who governs and trains them, and for the men themselves, who never flinch in the performance of their perilous task.

"ABBASSIEH DESERT OASIS."

A correspondent writes :- "The forcible re presentations which you have made against the acquisition of a large area of land in the Abbassieh Desert Oasis by two private in-Abbassien Desert Casis by two private in-dividuals are receiving wide-spread sympathy and support in Cairo. Everyone to whom I have broached the subject is disgusted at the action of the Government in this matter and is eagerly waiting to see if any explanation, satisfactory or otherwise, will be forthcoming.

It is indeed astounding that a concession should be granted on such terms, and without any stipulation as to what prices may be asked for the houses which are to be built, to any two private persons. I also understand that two private persons. I also understand that another certain well-known individual in Cairo applied for the concession at an earlier date than those to whom it was granted, but was refused it. If this is the case, and I have no reason to doubt its being so, is the Government d to answer why? What prior right have the two successful gentlemen to the land over any other individual or company ?" Another correspondent writes : - "Like the rest of the world I am full of astonishment at rest of the world I am 10h of astonishment at the sale of land at Abbassieh which the Govern-ment has made to Boghos Pasha Nubar and M. Empain. Who are responsible I and where are they! Lord Cromer is on his way to England; Mr. Corbett is already there; Mr. Mitchell-Innes is not yet back. Is this lastnamed gentleman to face all the indignation when he returns, alone? Or are all the officials conscious of such spotless purity, that they are rendered fearless, and only expecting public approval of their latest effort at just

FASHIONABLE MARRIAGES.

MIRES-SUARES.

The marriage of Miss Jane Suares, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Suares, to Mr. Mires, the engineer, was celebrated at the Green Synagogue, Moharrem Bey, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Grand Rabbi of Alexandria, assisted by a number of clergy, officiated, and the choral parts of the service were given by the members of the Jewish Musical Society. The synagogue was filled with a large and crowd. After the religious ceremony Mrs. Suares held a reception, which was attended by all the leading representatives of Alexandria society.

CHAMASS-TAMBAY.

The marriage of Mr. Alfred Chamass and Miss Emily Tambay was celebrated at the residence of the bride's mother at Bulkeley, Ramleb, yesterday. Both the bride and bride groom balong to well-known and respected Syrian families and a large number of local notables belonging to the Syrian and European colonies at Alexandria attended the wedding. The exterior of the house was brilliantly illuminated, the façade being adorned with hundred of lamps, which presented a most pleasing and artistic effect. The religious ceremony began shortly after 9 p.m. and was conducted by His Holiness Kyrillos, the Greek Catholic Melchite Patriarch of Egypt, assisted by a number of high ecclesiastics. At the close of the religious ceremony the bride and bride groom received the congratulations of their wedding guests and afterwards all adjourned to a most sumptuous buffet which was served by the Nungovich Hotels Company under the personal superintendence of Mr. Landauer manager of the San Stefano Hotel Casino The buffet was placed in the garden, which had been roofed in with curtains and formed a delightful coup d'wil.

The presents were numerous and costly. The bridegroom is the manager of the Agricultural Bank of Egypt for the Galioubieh Province. Rostovitz Bey, President of the Greek community in Cairo, acted as best man.

CONCERT AT KASR EL NIL

The second of the most enjoyable open-air concerts which are held periodically through out the summer at Kasr el-Nil Barracks took place on Wednesday evening, and was even more argely attended than the first one at which we assisted. The audience thoroughly enoyed the varied programme which Mr. Watson-Ramsay, bendmaster of the 2nd Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, had arranged for them. After the playing of "The Merry Monarch" by the Inniskilling band, Col-Sergt. Grant led off with the humorous song in Devonshire dialect "Farmer Giles" and evoked an encore by his excellent rendering of it. This was followed by a duet, "The Veteran's Toast," by Corporals Conyers and Gilbert, both of whom have good voices and sang exceedingly well. Mr. Holmes, too, scored a great success in the comic song Where I am lodging now," and was also encored, as indeed was every item. "Signor Jacksonwinski" and his three comrades greatly amused the audience with "Binks" Private Band." The second part was opened by Buccalosi's "Hunting Scene," admirably played by the band of the Inniskillings, and Mr. S. H. Trimen then sang "I'm Tired" in such a realistic manner that he soon had nearly all the audience yawning in sympathy with him. Lieut. G. C. Adams, who is always a favorite, sang "The Little Irish Girl" and as an encore "Off to Philadelphia," in the chorus of which the whole audience joined, vying with each other as to which should sing the loudest and the longest. The performance was concluded by the sketch "A Lunatic Asylum," the parts being played by Lance-Corporals Mulhall, Trowell, Lilburn, and Jordan. The various characters were excellently portrayed, espe-cially that of the new warder by Mr. Jordan.

BRITISH RECREATION CLUB.

Mr. Russell and Mrs. St. John, society entertainers, who are making a tour round the world and have come to Bgypt from South Africa with an excellent reputation, gave an entertainment at the British Recreation Club, Cairo, on Wednesday evening. The audience was not so large as it might have been, no doubt on account of the fact that there was a concert at the Kasr-el-Nil barracks the same evening, but those who were present fully appreciated the performance and gave every encouragement to the artistes. The first part of the programme consisted mainly of songs, and Mr. Russell fully sustained his well-earned reputation with his humorous readerings of Up in the World," "The Way to Sing a Song," and other comic items. Mrs. St. John, who is known on the stage as "Carmen, is able to sing in two distinct voices, a fulltoned soprano and a mellow baritone, and changes from one to the other with marvellous ease. The two songs by which she scored her greatest successes on the evening of which we write were "I'll leave my happy home for you" and "Hiawatha," and in these she showed admirably the wide range of notes of which admirably the wide range of notes of which she has command. Mr. Cooper drew forth roars of laughter by his rendering of "Laughing all over my face" and his humbrous recitation of the "Light Brigade," whilst Mr. Russell's imitations of Sir Henry Irving and other recognition to actors fully desarved the application. prominent actors fully deserved the applanae they evoked. The second half of the programms was composed of two sketches, "A Stud in Black and White" and "Robbing a Burglar both of which were exceedingly well acted and caused much amusement. The whole entertainment was an immense success and greatly enjoyed by all who were present, and we fee sure that when the Russell and St. John troupe pay a visit to Alexandria, where they will arrive on the 25th of this month, they will meet with the appreciation which they deserve.

EGYPTIAN SHARE MARKET

(FROM OUR PINANCIAD CORRESPONDENT)

London, June 9. The last 48 hours have very much chang ed the aspect of prices on the Stock Ex change, owing to what would appear to be a well-founded report that Russia is at las beginning to realise that the "game is up," and has asked Paris and Washington to assist her towards obtaining a cessation of hostilities by opening pourparlers with Japan. Consols and Japanese Bonds have been dealt in to-day at rising prices, and leave off at 90 11/16 and 99½ respectively, with a firm tone. It is hardly necessary to point out that a declaration of peace would have a very beneficial effect in the financial world.

The feeling of uneasidess owing to the fear of possible complications effectively checks new enterprise, causing bankers and financiers to reduce their commitments to the lowest possible point; their resources remain locked up in case of eventualities; once the cause is removed we may confidently look for a revival in almost all kinds of business. Money, already cheap, will become more abundant, and consequently cheaper. Should Japan receive any pecuniary indemnity, it will surely be financed in London, and a large portion will remain to meet Japan's obligations here. Apart from the stronger tone given to prices from the above cause, there is really little change to report since last week. The very interesting paper read by Mr. Edgar Speyer at the London Institution has been very well received, and if it only causes a halt in municipal borrowings, which have been much overdone of late, it will have served a very useful purpose, and one for which the city will feel grateful.

The markets all round close with a cheerful tone, and investment stocks are being more enquired for, especially in the Home Rail market, helped no doubt by the fact that traffics on the Northern lines have been better than expected. In Americans, prices are in-clined to rise above New York parity, and are a good market.

In the Egyptian market the feature this week has been the selling of National Bank shares, which at one time touched 26. We foreshadowed this in our letter a fortnight ago; but holders need not be the least alarmed, as the fall has been caused by shareholders desirous of changing their old shares for the new. The price has steadied up again now to 261-4, due to good buying support from

In the mining section there is little change to report. Nile Valleys have improved a fraction to 18. The report of the Um Rus mine, just issued to the shareholders, has been well received and the near future should show an improvement in their shares, as the mine is evidently being carefully worked, and the interests of the shareholders are in good hands.

AMERICAN PRESBYTERIAN MISSION.

The annual association meeting of the above mission is to be held at Ramleh on the 4th proxo. under the presidency of Rev. T. J. Finney and will remain in session about two weeks. It will be attended by all the members of the mission at meant in Farnt. The total weeks. It will be attended by all the members of the mission at present in Egypt. The total missionary and teaching staff numbers about 80 persons of both sexes, but several are away 80 persons of both sexes, but several are away for the summer, so it is not expected that more than half will attend. The mission was established in this country in 1854, so that it now enters upon its jubilee year, and the work done during these 50 years has been remarkable in every sense of the word.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Thomas McCague, who still lives at Omaha, U. S. A., oegan in that year, with Mrs. McCague alone, at Cairo, the work which to-day is represented by 78 workers from the home churches, besides acome 500 co-workers from among the morne.

some 500 co-workers from among the people of Egypt.

Dr. Harvey has resided in this country talmost continuously for about 40 years, whilst the term of service by the three senior missionaries now out here—Drs. Ewing. Harvey and Watson—already totals up to 123 years.

Mention should be made also of the medical work carried on by the mission in Lower and Upper Egypt. Tantah and Assiout are the two Upper Egypt. Tantah and Assiout are the two towns which serve as centres whence the work radiates to the surrounding villages. The Assiout hospital stands as the representative of medical work to the south of Cairo. As a second of what is accomplished there we may state that in the course of the past twelve months the patients admitted numbered betwen 1,300 and 1,400 men, women, and children. Of this total some 300 were Moslems, whilst the remainder were native Christians of difhe remainder were native Christians of difthe remainder were native Christians of dif-ferent persuasions, but mostly Copts. This hospital was opened about 9 years ago and he number of in-patients has been steadily on the increase since, whilst at times the building has been crowded to its utmost capacity.

An enew girls' college is to be built on Abbasboulevard, Cairo. The ground on which the college will be constructed is 14,000 metres in extent and was purchased from Sakakini Pasha at a cost of £6,400, whilst the buildings are estimated at another £16,000. They will be erected from plans designed by Mr. Skynder, the Cairo architect. There will be accommodation for between 150 and 200 boarders, besides 200 day scholars.

sides 200 day scholars.

At present there is in the girls' college in the Babekieh quarter nearly 100 boarders and about double that number of day scholars, but about donois that number to tay applications for the former class of pupils have to be refused for want of room, pupils have to be refused for want or room, and there are no means of enlarging the premises, so that the new college on Abbasboulevard, when completed in about two years' time, will prove a great boon and an incentive to the cause of native female education now carried on by the mission,

THIRD SUMMER MEETING.

Judged from the point of view of numbers resent, the first day's racing of the Third summer Meeting could not be called a success. Here was a very meagre attendance of the public and the grand-stand bors a deserted ppearance. This was no doubt in a large measure due to the fact that many people had sammes. This was no couter in a large summer due to the fact that many people had a drawn to the Suares wedding, which place yestering afternoor. The racing on whole was excellent, though no big surprises of furnished. Betting was fairly animated, beckers were rewarded by very respectable. The only incident of note during the armoon was the arrest, on what is said to a charge of nurder, of one of the jockeys, was led away from the ground by a posses police. Racing began at 4 pm. and the same round a fastation. The shade of 2nd Battation R. Berthaire Begiment coursed a choice selection of music during proceedings. #### EGYPTIAN TRRIGATION."

BY SIR HANBURY BROWN, K.C.M.G.

The Barrage consists of two large regulating works, one across the head of each branch of the Nils, siteasts about 15 miles north of Cairo. Until the year 1884, this work had been treated as a failure, and was recknoed by most residents in Egyph, engineers or otherwise, to a hopeless failure. It was designed to hold up 14 ft. 9 in. (44 m.) of water on both branches; it shad only succeeded in holding up as a maximum 5 ft. 9 in. (14 m.) on the Roottle Barack land mit house the America of the America

In May of that same year (1883), Co (now Sir) Colin Scott-Monorieff, an irrig (now Sir) Colin Scott-Monorief, an irriga negimer of wide experience is India, was charge of the irrigation in Egypt. Wi twelve mentla there arrived in Egypt, to a under Sir Colin, four other cogineers of lotian Irrigation Service, to whom a fifth added at the end of 1885. These six men ained full control of the work to get things straight. From that time the record has been one of uninterrupted progress and increasing prosperity in the

The problems before Sir Colin-taff were the following:

1.—To perfect the means of whole discharge of the river available for irrigation;

2.—To secure an economical and just dis-tribution of the water;

3.—To provide drainage facilities to carry

4.-To afford security from

The first problem, viz., the utilisation of the whole summer discharge of the river, was solved by making the Delta Barrage absolutely efficient.

absolutely efficient.
The repair work necessary to enable it to hold up 15 ft. (a.m.) head of water was carried out by the late Mr. A. G. W. Reid under Colonel Western's direction. The restoration was effected in four seasons on and of each regulator at a time, the part of the work to be operated on being surrounded by hanks and laid dry by pumping. The old defective floor was then extended up and

consolitated by requiring consense group, under the pressure of its own weight in horse 50 ft. high, into and under the defective bottom layers of the floor. The borns, by which the cement grout was introduced, were made in the thickness of the masoury piers from road-way level, first borne being so made in the length of each pier. The evidence obtained of any level, five bores being so made in the length of each pier. The evidence obtained of length of each pier. The evidence obtained of the result of the work was considered to justify the princip that the operation and side determined the length of the stability of the structure. The efficiency of the Barrage was subsequently still further increased by the construction of weirs at a short distance downstruction of the weirs from 18 ft. to 90 ft. 5 in. (8 m). only, so that, while the possible heading up has been increased by the time of the weirs from 18 ft. to 90 ft. 5 in. (4 to 6 im.) the Barrage itself is required to hald up only, 9.ft. 9 in. instead of 18 ft. The weir core and footing walls below water lovel, as also the foundations of the succeited tooks, were put in successfully under water to the structure of the content of the content into solid measury blocks. Under the other time of a stilled head or not up to water level smith the setting of the coment had formed he contents into solid measury blocks. Under load a stilled labour were almost entirely lating and a still a bour were almost entirely lating at the still a still a bour were almost entirely lating at the still a s and skilled labour were almost er eased with The resulting werrs pronounced to be the tightest in The construction of these works remarkable instance of the use grout on an extensive scale for

The combination of barrage and weirs is now such an efficient one that every drop of water, flowing down the river in summer, is forced into the irrigation canals and carried to the fields, and the first rise of the floods is taken foll advantage of. The Barrage gates are even caulked with regulation prevent any loss by leakage until the maximum head of $\epsilon$ to is held up and the

That the domination of the President is brooming greater and greater is shown in the following figures:—In 1790 Congress annibred 91 members, the Supreme Goers ist, the executive force 2,000. Had all kept pace with the growth of the soontry in wealth, Congress would now number 13,741, the Supreme Gourt 506, and the executive force 2002 Lintade Congress has 475 members, the Supreme Court-wine, while the executive force is 240,000. In other words, the legislative and judicial departments have stood comparatively still, but the President has grown with the country's growth, expanded with every phase of its development.

That the domination of the President

Every posimisater, or collector of Customs, or Consul, or Ambassador, is a representative of the President. Ha is not only the chief executive, but also the chief magnitrate, his functions are never mainisterial, but always magniserial, and there is no limit to his discretion.
